All staff, volunteers, governors and trustees working on behalf of Wargrave House Limited have a duty to promote the welfare and safety of children. They share the promotion of a culture of vigilance and are committed to the best possible outcomes for our student's safety and wellbeing.

The governing body has a duty to ensure that Wargrave House meets its statutory safeguarding responsibilities and that the students attending the school and college are safe. Safeguarding is reviewed through the Personal Development, Behaviour and Welfare committee which is informed by the scrutiny undertaken by the designated Governor for safeguarding.

Parents and carers are a fundamental partner in the safeguarding strategy. Whilst maintaining general vigilance around the safety and wellbeing of your son/daughter, if you have any concerns, you should contact us immediately. You can speak with any member of school staff or make direct contact any member of the safeguarding team. There are safeguarding bulletins within the Wargrave House newsletter which detail additional areas of support and resources to support in the home.

This summary is for initial guidance only, it is the policy itself which counts, and this will be referred to for all formal action.
